PORT ARTHUR NEWS IS CONFLICTING

The Russians Claim Little Reliable News is Received.

Tokio Dispatches Still Mention the "Final Assault"—General Kurapatkin to Move.

ACTIVITY IS TO BE RENEWED

Tokio, Aug. 25.—The belief is general here that the assault on Port Arthur is imminent and the announcement of its capture may be expected almost any moment.

TO DISCUSS MOLESTATION.
London, Aug. 25.—Premier Balfour will receive a deputation for the Chamber of Commerce this afternoon which will discuss with the Premier the molestation of British shipping by Russian warships.

THANKS FROM THE UZAR.
Shanghai, Aug. 25.—The czar has telegraphed the crews of the Askold and Grozovoi, congratulating them upon saving their vessels in the recent encounter with Japanese warships.

RUSSIAN LINES WEAKENING.
Tokio, Aug. 25.—The final assault on Port Arthur is imminent. Hundreds of Japanese guns continue to pour a destructive fire into the city and harbor, along the lines of forts and entrenchments preparatory to the infantry assault. It is evident that the Russian lines have been weakened and partly penetrated in the vicinity of Antoshan and Taoshan forts. The entire line of Russian defenses immediately about the harbor are within range of the Japanese guns. A number of Russian forts and batteries continue to be vigorous. The Japanese death toll will be heavily increased before they are captured.

The direction of the Japanese attack creates the impression here that the city and defenses on either side of the harbor entrance will fall first. The final stand will be made at Liao Tshien.

Japanese official channels of information remain closed, and the Navy Department announcement of the striking of a mine by the battleship Sebastopol and the firing upon the Russian forts by the cruisers Nishin and Kasuga yesterday are the only disclosures made for several days. It is believed here that both sides have suffered heavy losses, and that the final result will make the siege the bloodiest since Sedan. The Japanese are supremely confident of the ultimate result. The leaders of the Government await the outcome in calm assurance. The people are everywhere decorating streets and houses and erecting arches and flag staffs in preparation for a national celebration of the expected victory.

ONE DESTROYER SANK.

Tokio, Aug. 25.—The Russians suffered additional naval losses last evening when two torpedo-boat destroyers encountered mines outside Port Arthur. One was sunk and the other limped back into the harbor. The fate of the crew of the sunken vessel was not learned.

SILENCED RUSSIAN GUNS.

Tokio, Aug. 25.—Admiral Kataga, commander of the third Japanese squadron, in a report just received at the war office, states that the Japanese cruisers Nishin and Kasagi, yesterday discovered the Russians shelling the Japanese land forces from a position near Ling Tsh Tse, in a short time silencing the Russian guns.

STOPPED ENGLISH VESSEL.

London, Aug. 25.—Captain Shanklin of the steamer Asia, reports that his vessel was detained two hours when sixty miles east of Cape St. Vincent, by the Russian cruiser, Ural. After her papers and cargo had been examined by the Russians, the Asia was permitted to proceed.

REPORTS FROM PORT ARTHUR.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 25.—So far as can be ascertained, no further news of the progress of the fighting before the beleaguered fortress has been received, except that contained in reports from foreign sources. These latter are conflicting, some of them representing that the Japanese assaults have become exhausted, and others claiming that the Japanese have captured Eisesan Fort, belonging to the western defenses. If this position has been taken and occupied, it is realized that unless the Japanese are

RUSSIA WILL NOT ACCEPT MEDIATION

Formal Notice to be Served on the World.

Japan Must Fight It Out Now to the Bitter End—Kurapatkin to Get Busy.

WILL MOVE AGAINST THE JAPANESE

St. Petersburg, Aug. 25.—The newspaper Russ will tomorrow publish official notice of an article to the effect that Russia will refuse to accept mediation in the war with Japan under any circumstances.

KURPATKIN HEADY.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 25.—A telegram from General Kurapatkin, commander of the Russian forces in Manchuria, dated Liao Yang, states that he is now ready to begin an offensive movement against the Japanese forces.

COASTED OFF GERMAN VESSEL.

London, Aug. 25.—Two British cruisers, at the request of Russia have been sent in search of the Russian volunteer cruisers Smolensk and Petersburg, to tell the commander, not to interfere with shipping.

NO SALE TODAY

POSTPONEMENT ORDERED IN LEIGH FRUIT AND STORAGE CO.

The sale of the Leigh Fruit and Storage Co., property was not made today, but was held until Saturday. The referee Attorney E. W. Hagby fixed today for the sale, and if no objections were offered to the sale would have instructed the trustee to sell, but when the time came for hearing to objections the bankrupts claimed certain exemptions, and until this matter is settled the sale could not be ordered.

Referee Hagby gave the attorneys until Saturday to settle the matter and on Saturday the sale will be held.

Several other matters were acted on in this case. Attorneys Wheeler, Hughes, and Berry were allowed a fee of $250 for their services in the case. The Globe Bank and Trust Co., was allowed a fee of $100 for acting as assignee. Advance expenses of the petitioners were ordered refunded by the referee. These expenses are light, amounting to not more than $50.

CAPTAIN KILLED

IN AMBUSH ATTACK ON SOLDIERS.

Manila, August 25.—A detail of constabulary was ambushed on the island of Leyte by a superior force of bandits and Captain Barrett, of the constabulary, was killed.

at once dislodged the chain of fortresses will be breached and the position of Port Arthur rendered critical. The report, however, is considered as requiring confirmation.

The simple fact that the day to which a large portion of the public looked forward with superstitious dread passed without the fall of the fortress, suddenly encouraged the popular hope that the christening of the Czarevitch will mark a turn in the tide.

Reports that Gen. Kurapatkin is about to make an important move continue to be circulated, but the character of the move is not hinted at.

Since his retirement from Simonsing and the Yangtze Pass, it is estimated that more than 35,000 reinforcements have reached Gen. Kurapatkin.

Nothing has been received from Russian sources concerning the report that the battleship Sevastopol struck a mine outside Port Arthur.

RUSSIA TO BECOME AGGRESSIVE.

Rome, Aug. 25.—A dispatch from Mukden says the Trans-Siberian railway is working and badly incessant rains are causing bad washouts. The dispatch also says that General Kurapatkin has 18,500 men who will take the offensive against the Japanese as soon as the one hundred and twenty guns, now en route, arrive.

SERIOUS QUESTION ABOUT EXTENSION

Chinese Foreign Office Seems to Have Created Complications

Four Days Over the Limit in Which to Make Repairs on the Russian Ships.

THE POWERS ARE INTERESTED

Shanghai, August 25.—In view of the fact that the Chinese ministry of foreign affairs has given to the Russian warships now here four more days in which to make repairs, the situation is believed to have become more serious.

Washington, August 25.—The state department has been advised that the Wai Wo Pa, the Chinese foreign office, has extended the time for repairs on the Russian ships in Shanghai to noon of August 28.

Paris, August 25.—A dispatch to the Temps from St. Petersburg says the Askold, the Grozovoi and the Diana will be disarmed if Japan will give the powers a specific promise not to attempt thereafter to seize them.

Paris, August 25.—There is reason to believe that a decision is about to take effect providing for the voluntary disarmament of the cruiser Askold and torpedo boat destroyer Grozovoi now at Shanghai and the Russian cruiser Diana at Saigon.

Advices received here from Saigon show, contrary to previous announcements, that the Diana is in a very bad condition. She has one large hole in her hull below the water line. Her injuries will take weeks to repair. This would have permitted an extension of her sojourn in a neutral port beyond the twenty-four hours which expired yesterday, but it is foreseen that the repairs would entail such a stay at Saigon that it is possible that questions affecting the neutrality of the port would be likely to arise and, therefore, Russia is disposed to disarm the Diana, which thereafter will remain at Saigon during the war.

The final determination in the matter has not yet been taken, but the tendencies are strongly as indicated.

WILL DISMANTLE.

Washington, August 25.—Consul General Goodnow enables the state department that the Russian consul general at Shanghai has notified the United States that the Askold and Grozovoi will be dismantled at once.

WRIT OF DELIVERY

AN INTERESTING MULE CASE COMES UP TODAY.

Justice Jesse Young will this afternoon try a writ of delivery for a mule, brought by L. H. Page against G. W. Robertson, the ice man, in which a prisoner from Bardwell was brought here as a star witness.

The prisoner, Burkett, by name, is charged with stealing a mule, which is alleged to have been sold by him to Mr. George Robertson of Paducah, who bought it in good faith. Page claims to own the mule and took out the writ of delivery in Justice Young's court to secure it. He had Burkett brought here to swear that he sold the mule to Mr. Robertson.

Burkett has not been tried. Marshall Moss brought Burkett here this morning and the attorneys will likely introduce a great deal of evidence. Attorney A. L. Harper represents the plaintiff and Bagby and Martin the defendant.

PADUCAH COMPANY TO BE REORGANIZED

Adjutant General Coming Here in a Short Time.

News From Frankfort Today Is That the Paducah Boys Will Not Go to St. Louis.

FIRST TROOPS LEAVE SEPT. 1

The first definite news of the Paducah military company was received by the Sun this morning from Frankfort, and is as follows:

Frankfort, Ky., August 25.—Owing to the disorganized condition of the Paducah military company, the adjutant general says he will not be able to send them to the St. Louis encampment. He hopes, however, to visit Paducah shortly and reorganize the company along new lines.

The other military companies begin leaving in a few days, and the three regiments of the Kentucky State Guard will be encamped on the grounds of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition for the purpose of instruction during the month of September. The camp will be opened on September 1 and close on the 29th inst. Adjutant General Percy Haly will be in active command of the troops, who will be ordered into camp one regiment at a time. Each regiment will remain in camp nine days.

An executive order from the Governor to the adjutant general, issued yesterday directs that the Third regiment be taken first to the camp. The companies composing the regiment will leave Louisville and Western Kentucky points on the night of Thursday, September 1, arriving in camp the following morning. They will continue there until the evening of September 9, when they will return to Kentucky. The companies of the Second regiment will leave Louisville on the evening of September 11, arriving at St. Louis the next morning, and continuing in camp until the afternoon of September 19.

The First regiment and batteries will leave Louisville on the evening of September 21, and remain in camp until it breaks up, on September 29. Orders in detail will be issued from the office of the adjutant general immediately, providing information to company commanders as to the movement of the troops under them, the lines of railroad to transport them from their respective homes to Louisville and to St. Louis, and other necessary information.

HIS SON'S HEAD

CHICAGO POLICEMAN MAKES A GHASTLY DISCOVERY.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 25.—A man about 23 years of age was killed by a train at 101st street and a patrol wagon in charge of Police Sergeant Patrick Reilly was sent to convey the remains to the morgue. The body was literally cut in pieces and the police were forced to gather it up bit by bit. For some time the head could not be found, but finally it was picked up by Sergeant Reilly, who on bringing it to the light, found it was the head of his own son, Patrick J. Reilly.

THE PLANS WERE ADOPTED BY BOARD

Bids for New Market House Advertised For.

Contractor Robertson to Begin Work Monday—Blithlithic Factory May Be Established Here.

WAREHOUSE FOR MARKET

The Board of Public Works met last night and adopted plans for the new market house, and will this afternoon advertise for bids for the structure. No material changes were made in the plans as submitted at the previous meeting.

The matter of cold storage in the building has not been decided, and neither has the question of material for the tops of butcher's stalls, or some other minor matters that may be settled later on, and which have no direct bearing on the building proper.

Contractor Charles Robertson, to whom was awarded the contract for the storm water sewerage on Broadway from Fifth to Ninth, is now in St. Louis buying his pipe, and will begin work Monday.

The board last night received a communication from the Warren & Warren Co., of New York, manufacturers of the blithlithic compound, stating that in event enough work was contracted for, the company would put up a plant here for the manufacture of blithlithic compound, which would be a good thing for Paducah.

The improvements to be made on the streets will be either brick paving or the blithlithic compound, and if the latter is most favorable will mean the establishment of a big plant here, which will remain permanently. If not enough work is secured to justify such a plant, the compound will be made elsewhere, probably Nashville, and shipped here. The communication was filed.

The board ordered an ordinance drawn up at once providing for either paving with brick or blithlithic compound, Second or South Market street, so that the municipal board can act on it right away and get this improvement, which is necessary, before the market house can be built.

The board also ordered the street roller to work on Washington street.

One of the most important actions taken was the rental of the Western District warehouse at Jefferson and Second streets, for a temporary market house. The building will be rented as soon as the contract for the building of the market house is let, signed and the contractor ready to go to work. It is expected the market house will be finished within three months' time.

The board decided to ask residents of the West End to bring in a petition for paving streets and curbing, when they are built, the bad drainage will be remedied.

City Engineer Washington was instructed to make plans and specifications for the improvement of Market street at once. The grade will have to be lowered considerably, probably a foot or more. He will go to work today and have the plans ready by the time the ordinance is passed by the council.

FIRE AT JACKSON

MORNING BLAZE CAUSES LOSS OF BETWEEN $15,000 AND $20,000.

Jackson, Tenn., Aug. 25.—Fire practically consumed the building and contents at the corner of Lafayette and Shannon streets, and occupied by Doone Bros., dealers in buggies, wagons and farming implements. They estimate the loss on their stock at $15,000, on which they had $10,000 insurance. The building was a two-story brick and was the property of Mrs. Nelson and was insured for $1,000. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Mosby W. White & Co., cotton buyers, had offices in the rear of the building, and sustained a loss of $300 and had no insurance. Mid-joiner's blacksmith shop on the west of the burned building, was also slightly damaged.

Evansville, Ind.—Rev. A. M. Harkins of Anderson, Ind., has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Central Christian church of Evansville.

I. C. SECTION HAND KILLED IN BALLARD

Passengers on Cairo Accommodation Witness Terrible Death.

V. Fondaw, of Bardwell, Harried Against a Switch Post By an M. & O. Train.

COULD NOT BE WARNED

V. Fondaw, who is supposed to have lived at Bardwell, but was employed at East Cairo on the M. & O. section, was killed in sight of the crew on the Cairo and Paducah f. c. local freight yesterday afternoon about 2:40 o'clock, but the accident happened so quick that no one was able to render assistance or warn the man of his danger.

Fondaw was working by the track and heard the I. C. train pull up at the turnover. The M. & O. fast passenger was coming along about 40 miles an hour and the noise of the f. c. train probably caused the section man not to hear the approaching M. & O. train, in which he had his back turned.

The pilot struck the man full in the side knocking him across the turnover against a switch post, bruising him and breaking nearly every bone in the body. Members of both crews went to his assistance but too late. The man was dead when reached.

The corner of Ballard county was summoned and the inquest resulted in accidental death. The remains will be taken to Bardwell for burial, if the man's relatives are located there.

BRIGHTER OUTLOOK FOR PYTHIAN HOME

Local Members are to Renew Their Efforts.

Louisville is Believed to Be Out of the Contest as She Has Deficit to Make Up.

COMMITTEE TO INSPECT SITE

Paducah Knights of Pythias feel encouraged over the outlook for getting the Pythian Widows and Orphans Home. It is understood that Louisville is out of the race. There is now a deficit of $6,000 or more in the funds for entertaining the biennial convocation, and it will be hard to raise this, let alone enough to get the new home.

The committee of inspection will now make a tour of the cities contesting for the home, and will be here shortly.

Officers of the local K. of P. today wrote to ascertain on what date they will arrive here, and expect to properly entertain them, and also to convince them that Paducah is the place for the home.

The local members of the K. of P. and those who are aiding them encouraged by the turn affairs have taken leave now renewed their efforts to get the home. They believe that if Louisville is not after it, which seems to be the case from late information, Paducah stands a good chance. Paducah's bid is the best offered, and it is understood that many favor Paducah as the place for the home.

JUDGE PARKER

THINKS THE FILIPINOS ARE AS GOOD AS THE PEOPLE OF CUBA.

New York, August 25.—Judge Parker has written a letter to John G. Milburn, of Buffalo, making plain his attitude towards the Filipinos. He says, "I am in hearty accord with the plank in the Democratic platform which advocates treating the Filipinos precisely as we did the Cubans."

Much of the experience a man gets comes too late to benefit him.

While Gus Bonno and Clyde Goodwin, star twirlers in the Kitty League, battled for supremacy at Wallace Park yesterday afternoon, both the Indians and Hoosiers played like school boys behind them each team seemingly trying to see which could make the most errors. The grand stand was well filled, the fans realizing a pitchers' battle was brewing, and every stage of the game was exciting.

Bonno clearly demonstrated his superiority, allowing but three hits, one scratch hit until the ninth inning when two accidental hits and two errors made it possible for the Hoosiers to avoid the humiliation of a shut out with their star twirler in the box.

The way the trick was turned in a long story but can be summed up in one word "ERRORS." Here is the way the tide was turned:

In the last of the second inning Potts hit a waist ball to Gwyn and retired to the timbers. Land stood pat after three but ones had been delivered and awaited a hard grass clipper to right field, making first sack. Goodwin doubled up to turn loose speed and throw wild, Land going to second. Lemon did not field the ball quick enough and the big Mau went to third. Harley bunted down to first base line and Lemon tried to throw him out but made a botch, Wilkerson barely stopping the sphere as he sailed two feet out of line. Land came in home making the first run. Powers and Brabie tried hard at three swift benders and retired the side.

In the third inning two more scores were netted. Bonno hit to Bierkorte, who fumbled. Bateman sacrificed to pitcher and Gerard failed at three high ones. Lally waited for four wide shoots and got him plum, later stealing second. Potts swung well at a low drop ball and met it hard in the face. The leather sphere went hard at Bierkorte whose anxiety to field the runner out caused a bad fumble, both Bonno and Lally scoring. Potts got to second on the error and stole third sack. Land failed at three and retired the stickers.

The fifth inning brought forth three more scores. Bateman flew out to Gwyn and Gerard grounded out from O'Leary to Wilkerson. Lally got his base on balls again and Potts hit a high one to Taylor who let it drop. Land came to the plate with blood in his eye. He swung true and hit a hard one to little Bierkorte who made a bad muff, letting in two runs. Harley also hit to the second baseman and another fumble was scored along with a run. Powers lined out a nice single to right field. Bateman, who was running the sacks for Harley, tried to make third on the hit but was thrown out, retiring the side.

In the sixth inning still another run was made. Brabie flew out to O'Leary and Bonno got his base on balls. Bateman slugged a safe bounder to right field and Gerard struck out. Lally knocked a high infield ball to pitcher but Goodwin thought Lemon was going to take it. Wilkerson ran off first to take the ball but let it get away from him. Lally making second base and one run coming in.

In the seventh inning Land singled to the infield, bunting to the ground and running it out. Harley got a walk and Bateman took his place. Land stole second prior to this and went to third on a passed ball, later scoring on a wild pitch. Powers hit to O'Leary who threw Bateman out at home. Brabie struck out and Bonno flew out to Bierkorte.

The Hoosiers had all this time gotten good eggs until the ninth when Taylor hit safe to center field. Wilkerson struck out and Gwyn hit to Bateman who crossed second cutting of Taylor. Bateman tried to throw Gwyn out at first but missed his mark. Kolb hit to Bonno who threw to Harley, Harley miffing the throw. Bierkorte hit safe to right field and Brabie let it get past him, both runners scoring. Goodwin hit to Bateman and was retired at first.

BONNO IS NOW "THE STAR."

Gus Bonno, the Indiana star twirler, clearly and coolly outpitched Clyde Goodwin at Wallace Park yesterday afternoon. The game was loosely played, however, but this had no direct bearing on the work of the pitchers. By way of comparison the following will show just how Bonno outclassed his rival. Bonno yielded but three hits while Goodwin yielded five. Bonno gave two bases on balls and Goodwin five. Goodwin made three wild pitches and Bonno none. Goodwin went up in the air slightly once or twice and Bonno stood pat, refusing to be rattled in the east, not even when the game was lost as far as a shot out was concerned in the last inning.

Bonno, if Goodwin is the best pitcher in the league, has deservedly taken the title.

Goodwin says he is out of shape but he worked to no greater disadvantage than Bonno who caught cold in his arm last Sunday and has not recovered. Bonno is saving up for the Cairo series. He will open the Egyptians' eyes.

A LITTLE BALL DOPE.

It ought to have been a shut out. Big Taylor has the sympathy of the fans, for he wants to play ball, and is big enough to play ball, but "jes" natchally can't.

Bonno pitched all around Whirlwind Goodwin yesterday.

It may have taken six policemen to separate Catcher Lemon and Tommy Smith, but it didn't take much yesterday to separate him from Goodwin's slants. He had three passed balls.

Yesterday's game was announced as a "pitchers' battle," and that's

"If the cares of life beset you, or fret you, we'll bet you a Sun want ad will get you—an antidote."

about all it was. Nobody else did any playing to amount to anything.

And they called it a ball game. There continue to be a lot of fans and several ball players who persist in knowing better than the umpire.

The gent out in center field robbed Potts of a fine hit yesterday. Goodwin got a good deal of "ragging" yesterday about the bear bottle that swatted him over the eye in the free-for-all with Cairo.

Freeman is back in the game. Harley is just as good looking as ever, if his nose was broken.

One of the finest throws ever seen on the diamond was made yesterday by Land when Kolb stood on first base while Land went to the grand stand after a foul fly. Land squeezed the sphere and as he turned saw Kolb making for the second sack. He threw the ball straight to Bateman who caught Kolb ten feet off the base. The play was remarkable.

We have word out our standing headline "Cairo Won Again," and had a new one cast, "Cairo, of Course." We expect this to last until the Paducah-Cairo series.

The Milwaukee Journal comes to bat with the following production: "I see from the score," said Leo Tanterhill of the White Sox as he laced up his spiked shoes, "that Vincennes, where old Alice came from—is that right?—has a catcher named Lemon. Fine. There is less yellow in his composition than his name would indicate, and his language to the umpire is of an acid flavor. Salaries are very small down there, and I would not be surprised if Lemon were a bit seedy, especially if he has been squeezed by any flies. Still he may get into taster company—if a manager will give Lemon aid."

Wait until the Cairo sluggers go up against Bonno and his sport. The Vincennes say the Italian is about as good as they make 'em.

Harley was a little nervous on account of his nose yesterday. He will be steadier today. Harley plays an excellent first base.

Tomorrow is Ladies' day again.

Kubitz and Downing for Henderson, Brabie and Land for Paducah will be the battery for today's game.

The big man says he feels more at home behind the bat and is well satisfied to catch the remainder of the season out. This is too shaky a stage of the game to allow anyone but Land to work behind the bat.

Bonno is made of the right stuff. Last night some stranger who had won on Paducah, handed the Italian twirler $2. Bonno called all the team into a soda water dispensary and "set 'em up".

FEUD BETWEEN CARS AND AUTOS

Coachers, Vexed at Loss of Trade, Wander About the Drives to Ha 1235 Chautauks.

Paris. In connection with the social question one prominent automobile manufacturer called attention to the fact that car drivers are just as dangerous as automobiles. The car is allowed to wander up and down and across the drives, marauding with no regard for the laws. The car is a delight in annoying automobiles because they limit his trade. Everywhere where all kinds of activity is going on, it is becoming dangerous for pedestrians because of the automobiles that are constantly dashing up and down the line agencies.

THE BASEBALL "FAN."

A fan is an animal. It walks around with two eyes, a mouth and a nose.

In the respect it resembles a human being.

It has no heart or soul when the home team is losing.

In this respect it resembles a beast or dumb animal.

Feed it on the meat of victory and it grows contentedly in the company of the field on game.

But given the best food at hand and it still grows restless.

It is not content with the food of victory, but it must have the food of defeat.

It is the fan who makes the stadium a place of suffering and tears.

When a crowd of fans is gathered in a stadium at night, every man, woman and child is a fan.

When a fan is in a stadium at night, he is a fan.

SECRETS

At the Price of Suffering.

Woman on her way to semi-invalidism caused by pregnancy suffers much pain. Ignorance prompts her to suffer alone in silence and remain in the dark as to the true cause—motherhood.

Mother's Friend takes the doctor's place and she has no cause for an interview. She is her own doctor, and her modesty is protected. Daily application to the breast and abdomen throughout pregnancy will enable her to undergo the period of gestation in a cheerful mood and rest undisturbed.

Mother's Friend

is a salve for external use only. It would indeed be shameful if the sacrifice of modesty were necessary to the successful issue of healthy children. All women about to become mothers need and only to a drug store for $1.00 to secure the price childbirth remedy. Healthy babies are the result of using Mother's Friend. ## COSTLY FUN

YOUNG PEOPLE FINED FOR ALLEGED CHARIVARI.

Walter Hamish, Robert Oates, Herbert Cops, Adair Hamish, Hoplo Hamish, Jim Matthews, James Graham, Willie Holland and Clyde Matthews were tried before Justice Jesse Young yesterday afternoon on a disorderly conduct charge. They all reside on the North Side, and it was alleged when Mr. Green Lee and Miss Ollie Oates married Tuesday night, a party of young people undertook to charivari them. William Oates, owner of the property, claimed they threw rocks and otherwise abused his property and swore out warrants, and the above were fined $5 and costs, the total for each amounting to $11.05.

A CONTINUAL STRAIN.

Many men and women are constantly subjected to what they commonly term "a continual strain" because of some financial or family trouble. It wears and distresses them both mentally and physically, affecting their nerves badly and bringing on liver and kidney ailments, with the attendant evils of constipation, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, low vitality and despondency. They cannot as a rule, get rid of this "continual strain," but they can remedy its health destroying effects by taking frequent doses of Green's Anagat Flower. It tones up the liver, stimulates the kidneys, insures healthy bodily functions, gives vim and spirit to one's whole being, and eventually dispels the physical or mental distress caused by that "continual strain." Trial bottle of Anagat Flower, 25c; regular size, 75c. At Druggists, Kolb & Co.

FARNBAKER SAYS HE IS SECRETARY

President Thompson Says the Cairo Man is "Removed."

Farnbaker Positively Denies That He Will Resign—Thompson Says W. H. Hancock Is Secretary.

THE WAR IS ON IN EARNEST

Maurice J. Farnbaker, of Cairo, secretary of the K. I. T. League, whose position seems to be in dispute, has settled the matter by speaking for himself, and it matters naught what the others say. Mr. Farnbaker is still secretary as he holds the league funds and records.

The secretary deems it best to officially announce his position, which is conclusively done in the following dispatch received by the Sun:

Cairo, Ill., Aug. 24, 1904.

Sun, Paducah, Ky.

There is positively no truth in the report that I have or will resign the secretaryship of the league. I will continue to fill the office until the fall meeting as the constitution provides, in city winning the championship, which will be held the fourth Sunday in September.

(Signed)
M. J. FARNBAKER,
Secretary.

This will be good news for the fans. Secretary Farnbaker is a most capable secretary, and knows more about baseball and baseball does more for the league than all the others put together. The Kitty league owes two successful seasons to his hard work. Whatever Secretary Farnbaker says, or whatever position he takes, it can be safely relied on that he is fully sustained in every particular by the K. I. T. constitution and baseball rules.

President Thompson, however, seems to disagree with Secretary Farnbaker, and is evidently trying to carry out his alleged threat which he a few days ago, of "ridding the league by himself." He is now in Hopkinsville and yesterday's New Era says:

"Dr. W. I. Thompson, president of the Kentucky-Indiana-Tennessee baseball league, is in two cities. He is making a tour of the towns in the circuit. He said to a New Era representative: 'The success of the K. I. T. during its second season assures the permanency of the league. All of the towns are playing better ball than they did last year, and are stronger financially. The Kitty is one of the fastest minor leagues in the country. The season will end September 11 though a number of the managers are anxious to extend the season to October 1. Next year there will be eight clubs in the league. There is nothing in the report that the Kitty will give up national protection and play independent ball. Parties in Evansville and Nashville are offering inducements to be allowed to place clubs in the league but their propositions will be turned down.'

"I have appointed W. H. Hancock, of Hopkinsville, the vice president of the league to the position of secretary, vice Maurice Farnbaker, of Cairo, removed. Farnbaker did not get along well with some of the club owners, and as he failed to resign when opportunity was offered, a business meeting was held in Paducah and he was removed from office."

"Dr. Thompson stated that he had certainly wanted Hopkinsville the two games lost to Paducah when Land was played while under suspension."

The Cairo News says: "Secretary Farnbaker has not resigned and will not until the close of the season, when his successor will be appointed. A few days ago Mr. Farnbaker offered to resign from his position if President Thompson would make good the $120 which it is claimed he withdrew from the guarantee fund, and also resign and turn the business of both leagues over to Mr. Dick Hidy of Paducah. This Mr. Thompson refused to do."

Man was made to mourn, but a widow usually outlives it.

Two Candidates Thus Far For Godless of Labor—Various Con tests to Be Enjoyed.

MANY VISITORS ARE EXPECTED

Labor Day is drawing near and the advertising agents are working the city and surrounding counties thoroughly.

The boats running on all rivers carry streamers and cloth signs advertising the celebrations and the promoters of the celebration expect to have the largest crowd here on Labor Day ever assembled in Paducah on that anniversary.

So far only two candidates for Godless of Labor have been nominated. They are Misses Allie Cranfill, by the Carpenters and Joiners' union, and Miss Gertrude Walker, by the Ship Carpenters.

Committees are working to have an old country store at Wallace Park.

As soon as arrangements of all local unions are made to join the parade (Grand Marshal Charles Hart will umpire the line of march and decide the location of each union in the procession).

Arrangements are being made to have some well known public men and members of organized labor to address the crowds at the park.

Nearly all local unions have selected uniforms for the parade, and it is expected that nearly 2,500 union men will be in line.

The dancing pavilion will be in charge of Mr. George Hindman, of the Cigar makers, with Mr. W. O. Schofield, of the Blacksmiths' union at the gate.

The list of the contents of the day is as follows:

APOPLEXY KILLS BANKER LEONARD

Sudden Death of a Prominent Former Paducah.

He Dropped Dead From His Chair at Eddyville Late Yesterday Afternoon.

HE WAS A PROMINENT MAN

Mr. S. N. Leonard, the well known Eddyville banker, died suddenly yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock at his home in Lyon county from apoplexy. He had been in good health except for a slight indisposition, and a doctor called last night placed a thermometer in the patient's mouth to take his temperature when suddenly he pitched forward from his chair and breathed his last.

Mr. Leonard yesterday afternoon went to town to transact some business and see his son Otho, and had come back on account of feeling bad. He asked that a physician be sent for and when the physician arrived and attempted to ascertain whether or not the patient had fever the latter had the fatal stroke.

Mr. Leonard was a former resident of Paducah and one of the best known men in Southwest Kentucky. He was a highly educated man, and had for many years made Lyon county his home. He was born in North Carolina and was 60 years old, his early manhood being spent in Paducah. His first wife was a Miss Hazell and his second a Miss Long. His children are: Mrs. J. Wheeler Campbell, Paducah; Mrs. Cabann, St. Louis; Miss Sallie Leonard, New York; Tom Leonard, St. Louis; and Otho Leonard, Eddyville. He has a sister in Saratoga, N. Y.

Mr. Leonard was president of the Farmers' Bank in Eddyville, and of the Sawnee Spoke and Lumber company. At one time he was quite a wealthy man, but is said to have lost his fortune in recent years.

Colonel Leonard was quite a literary man in his younger days, and was for a time associate editor of the Paducah Herald. He was always a popular man and one of prominence, and was a brother to the late Tom Leonard, of Paducah, for many years a resident of North Seventh street.

The funeral of Mr. Leonard will be sometime tomorrow afternoon. The hour and having been set, the deceased was a Mason and the burial will be under their auspices.

FELL INTO RIVER

NEGRO SCAVENGER HAS CLOSE CALL AT GARBAGE DUMP.

This morning a negro scavenger fell into the Ohio river at the foot of Clay street where the garbage dump is located, but saved himself from drowning by clutching the sides of the dump and gaining the bank.

The negro was struggling with barrels of garbage when one got away from him, and in attempting to keep it from going into the river, he fell in himself. The accident was seen by Mr. Joe Wagner who hastened to the negro's aid, but the scavenger had gained the bank before Mr. Wagner reached him. His name was not learned.

A petition has been mailed to the president asking him to intervene in behalf of the men deported from Cripple Creek last Saturday.

THERE ARE NOW SIX AGAINST THE CHATTANOOGA WITH MORE COMING.

Today two additional libels were filed against the steamer Chattanooga, now at the ways here.

The Jackson Foundry and Machine company's claims amount to $122.60. The St. Bernard Coal company's amount to $112.

There are now six libels against the boat, and others are to follow in a short time, it is understood.

September 5 has been appointed as the time for creditors to present their claims for hearing, and show reason why the boat should be sold for debt. The order is issued by United States Marshal George W. Sanders, by the direction of United States Marshal A. D. James, of the Western District of Kentucky.

PADUCAH MAN HAS NOT BEEN INDICTED AT METROPOLIS.

Judge James Campbell left this morning for Metropolis, Ill., to attend court and represent J. C. DeMert, of Paducah, who was arrested here several weeks ago on a warrant charging bigamy. Judge Campbell does not believe that there is anything in the case, and thinks the grand jury will fail to indict. It is said the brother of the woman alleged to have been DeMert's first wife swore out the warrant, thinking DeMert was married to his sister, when DeMert claims he was not.

H. H. PARKER AND THE TRUSTS.

On Tuesday, August 23, the New York Times, which is a zealous supporter of Parker and Hays, came out in an editorial in favor of the nomination of Hays and S. Langdon as the Democratic candidates for governor of New York, saying "this nomination would be the strongest the party could make." On the same day it published the following information in its news columns:

It was learned last night that James A. Hill, of St. Paul, the President of the Great Northern railroad, is especially anxious to see Mr. Lamont nominated. Mr. Lamont is the vice president of the Northern Pacific road. Both roads were parties to the Northern Securities merger, which President Roosevelt and his Attorney General successfully combated in the courts. Mr. Hill is especially bitter against President Roosevelt, and has responded the Parker and Hays cause. Mr. Hill, however, as a preliminary to making his campaign contribution which is one of the largest in the country, is understood to be insisting that he be assured that New York state is at least likely to go to the Democratic ticket.

It is said that Mr. Hill believes that Mr. Lamont can carry the state of New York and can materially aid the election of the electoral ticket. For this reason, there is good reason to believe that Mr. Hill's contribution to the National campaign fund would be several hundred or thousands of dollars more if Mr. Lamont is named for governor than if the nomination goes to another. Moreover, it is said that Mr. Hill would contribute materially to the campaign in New York state if his friend Lamont who also is an intimate business associate, should be running.

From a National Committee source the belief was expressed last night that Mr. Hill would contribute fully $400,000 to the national campaign and $100,000 to the New York state campaign if Mr. Lamont is named, and that his donations might reach twice that sum if the indication continued to point to party success and it could be shown where further contributions on his part would aid the cause.

A day later, August 10, in explaining this publication, it said that it had been obtained from a "member of the Democratic National Committee." This would seem to establish its authenticity. At least it shows the attitude of James A. Hill and the other trust magnates whose business President Roosevelt broke up with his Attorney General. It shows that they are preparing to give money to the Democratic campaign fund with the expectation that Parker, if elected, will be friendly to them.

Lamont, it should be remembered, was

Cleveland's private secretary and subsequently his secretary of war. When he retired from public life with Cleveland he went into Wall Street with the Whitney Ryan Flower crowd, and subsequently into the Hill Trust combination and became a millionaire several times over. The Times revelation about him destroyed his usefulness as a candidate, but it showed unmistakably what is going on in the Democratic campaign. The baffled and enraged trusts are behind Parker and are preparing to pour out money to elect him. Parker says in his speech of acceptance that he thinks the common law is ample to keep the trusts within bounds, that no other law is necessary. Under the common law the merger suit could not have been brought.

Events tend to show more and more every day that President Roosevelt will receive the largest plurality ever given a candidate for president. Senator Lodge, a splendid authority, says: "Republicans throughout the country are presenting a solid front for the President. I do not find anywhere a single Republican who is expecting to support and vote for Judge Parker. Some gold Democrats who voted for McKinley in 1896 and 1900 have returned to their party. They, of course, will support Judge Parker. On the contrary, I know many Democrats who will support Mr. Roosevelt. He will get a large personal vote, for the President is the kind of man who appeals strongly to every American. Among first voters and among young men generally he will poll a tremendous vote. I feel entirely confident of the general result."

There is a great deal in the following from the Ashland Independent upon the question of good roads: "The advantages of good roads was never better exemplified than last winter, when wheat was a dollar a bushel. Farmers who were able to get good roads soon had their product in town and received the high price. Those who could not haul the golden grain in at the time had to hold it until the roads were good. The loss was about seven cents a bushel put an item in the marketing of a crop or even a few wagonloads."

Why not sweep the cross streets recently paved, as well as Broadway? They are allowed to become very dirty, and there is no excuse for it, for a few hours with the sweeper would do the work.

Congressman Dillie James is up and telling the glibness interviewers that Kentucky is going to do this fall, when he doesn't know what his own district is doing to do.

Every table of statistics showing the growth of trade and manufactures under Republican rule spells prosperity for the people and disappointment to Democratic hopes.

It must seem a little awkward for the Democrats to ask for power, not on their own record, but on the strength of the Republican party's record.

HORSE STEALING

Charge Lodged Today Against John Gainer, Colored.

Took Mr. John Rogers Horse and Drove It Five Miles.

Patrolmen Potter and Goulet last night arrested John Gainer, colored, and swore out a warrant against him for horse stealing, and later another charge of house breaking will probably be preferred.

Some one broke into the stable of Mr. John Rogers, at Twelfth and Broadway last night and stole a horse and buggy. The police were notified and Officers Goulet and Potter detailed to investigate. They learned Gainer was seen driving rather rapidly out Broadway and late last night laid for the negro, catching him riding to town in the rig, which he explained he had simply "borrowed."

He was taken to the city hall and locked up until this morning when he was removed to the county jail. Gainer had driven to Pleasant Grove, five miles out on the Broadway road. He broke a board nailed across the stable door, to get in, making himself giddy of housebreaking. Gainer has been in trouble before.

BASEBALL SUNDAY, PADUCAH VS. CAIRO.

The game will be played at Cairo Sunday afternoon, August 28. Take the Steamer Dixie Fowler to Cairo leaving here at 8 a. m., leaving Cairo after the game is over. Fare round trip only $1.00. Music and lunch on board.

A decisive battle between federal and rebel troops in Uruguay is believed to be imminent.

Patience gives a big push to any purpose.

LOT OF RED TAPE IS NOW IN ORDER

It May be a Month Before "Pink Slip" is off.

Secretary Rose Will Officially Notify the Board, Which Will Send an Inspector.

WE WILL THEN DECIDE

Insurance commissioner C. C. Rose has received an answer to his letter to Claude F. Snyder, secretary of the Kentucky and Tennessee board of underwriters at Nashville, in which he advised that the improvements to the Paducah fire department were nearing completion, and asked for instructions as to how and when the pink slip would be removed here.

Secretary Snyder wrote that he was in doubt as to whether the Kentucky and Tennessee board or the governing committee of the national board at Chicago had the authority to remove the slip, but stated that he had written to advise and would notify Mr. Rose as soon as he received an answer.

Secretary Snyder stated further that it would require some little time after the city through Mr. Rose had been officially notified of the completion of the improvements, before an inspection could be made and the pink slip removed. Mr. Rose said regarding the matter:

"When the city notifies me that the improvements are complete, I will write to the secretary of the Kentucky and Tennessee board of underwriters and advise him of the notification. He will then take steps to have the proper inspectors sent here immediately to make an inspection, and if the improvements are correctly and fully made, will order the pink slip removed and advise other members pertaining to this subject."

The merchants and the city are anxious to have the slip removed as it has meant a great increase in insurance rates, and when the apparatus is here and installed, will waste no time in notifying commissioner Rose. A part of the new equipment will arrive within a few days, and the stations will be in service immediately on its arrival, but this will not be sufficient as the insurance men will stand for nothing short of full and complete stations so it may probably be a month before the pink slip is removed.

IMPORTANT RULING AT FRANKFORT

Attorney General Says Policies are Subject to Taxation.

The Assessor Should List Them at Their Cash Surrender Value, He Says.

THE COURTS WILL SETTLE IT

Frankfort, Ky., August 25.—Attorney General Hays, in an opinion delivered to Auditor Hager, holds that all policies of life insurance are property within the meaning of the constitution and statutes, and are subject to taxation in the hands of holders, at their cash surrender value.

The opinion of the attorney general was asked by Insurance Commissioner Prewitt and Bruce Dindman, of Louisville, State Agent for the Mutual Life Company of New York, upon the making of an effort by the tax collector of Paintsville, Johnson county, to assess for taxation two policies of insurance, one paying annual dividends and the other paid up, but not paying dividends.

The question will, of course go into the courts for final decision despite the ruling of the attorney general.

THE THIRTIETH

German Evangelical Church to Celebrate Anniversary.

Will Hear Two Fine Sermons by a Former Pastor.

Next Sunday, August 28, the thirtieth anniversary of the German Evangelical church will be celebrated. Rev. J. E. Digel, who was pastor of the congregation for many years will preach at both morning and evening services. Rev. Digel is now situated at Massillon, Ohio, and is president of the Ohio District of the Evangelical Synod.

This congregation is one of the oldest in the city. The church was originally located on South Third street, where the Union Rescue Mission is now situated. The handsome building now occupied by the German Evangelical congregation was built about 15 years ago.

The building in which the mission is now situated, has an interesting history. It was originally a theater, in the earlier days of Paducah, was bought by the German Evangelical congregation for a church. After it was abandoned for this purpose it was again used as a theater, and is now again a church.

The present German Evangelical church is a pretty little structure which cost about $5,000, and its congregation is now very flourishing. Rev. William Honigman is the present pastor.

ABILENA

Abilena is natural water. It holds in solution salts dissolved from natural deposits in the earth. It is Nature's cathartic compound—a natural mineral water. Mineral waters are recognized everywhere as the most efficient, as well as the least injurious, cathartics. Abilena is the best mineral water on the American market. It is The American Natural Cathartic. The discovery of Abilena was a simple revelation of nature. For a long time after the first well was dug, the water, being unfit for domestic purposes, was not used at all. Practical tests afterward disclosed its medicinal properties and the report of its virtue was rapidly disseminated. Finally several chemists analyzed the water and the results manifested its great therapeutic value and prefigured its future renown. Sold only by

A FEW POINTS ABOUT PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

No other man ever rose from police commissioner to president of the United States in less than five years. No other so vigorously and so successfully turned stumbling blocks into stepping stones. Theodore Roosevelt entered politics as a reformer as soon as he had left college, and made a reputation at the very start for public spirit, honesty, combativeness and unshakable physical courage. He made enemies at every step, and every enemy made him ten friends. The boy assemblyman forced a hostile legislature to condemn its own political allies. The young civil service commissioner boldly challenged the national leaders of his party and compelled them to observe the law. The police commissioner trampled ruthlessly over all the prejudices of a cosmopolitan community, whether they represented the vicious instincts of a criminal faction or the innocent desires of the liberty loving majority. The assistant secretary of the navy thrust a rule hand into the reins of red tape that swathed the department and cleared the way for the commanders that smashed the fleets of Spain. The governor of New York accepted the hostility of the public-service corporation by signing the Ford franchise bill. The president of the United States challenged Wall street by forcing a settlement of the anthracite strike and ordering the dissolution of the Northern Securities merger. He sacrificed his popularity in the south rather than "shut the door of hope" in the face of the negro. He secured the partial fulfillment of our pledge of Cuban reciprocity. He ended the half century period of talk about the Panama canal, and brought on a period of action. He insisted on probing the frauds of the postal service in the face of the anger of his party leaders.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 25.—After remaining in the local School of Reform for eight months, it developed that Ernest Legg, a boy not over thirteen years of age, who lives at 2512 North Tenth street, in Philadelphia, last November was kidnapped from his wealthy parents, who live at 2512 North Tenth street, in Philadelphia, last November by a blind man and his wife and brought to this city. For nearly a year the child has endured the utmost depths of degradation. He has peddled pencils on the streets all day, only to return home at night to a scant supper and a bed of rugs. He was unable to tell the story of his wrongs because he was covered by dirt and brutal treatment. At last he was rescued from this life of a mendicant last December only to be thrust into jail and later sent to the School of Reform, where he has remained since.

Yesterday afternoon the child was sent in a parlor car over the Pennsylvania railroad to his comfortable home, where his every wish will be granted, and where his parents hope he will be restored to his former health of mind and body.

MAUD MULLER TO DATE

Jake Muller on a summer day, raked the meadow sweet with hay. The mole with which he raked the hay, was mackled with streaks of grey. Jake's shirt was of hickory and pants of brown with a patch on the place where he sits down. Jake missed in a way hard to see, for the mole went away when he said gee. A handle bee's nest in a stubble lay. A tooth ran through the humble home and the bees came out and began to roam in search of the man that summer day, who raked the meadow of clover hay. The bees swarmed loads of Muller's shirt and quickened the mole to lively sport. It was tough on the mole and tough on Jake and worse still on the salty raku for the mole turned loose in a promiscuous way and scuttled the rake all over the hay.—Hymno Herald.

QUICK WORK

BILL POSTERS STRUCK THE TOWN AND PLASTERED IT WELL.

This morning the Wallace Show advertising car No. 1, arrived in Paducah and the bill posters were out bright and early posting the paper. The Wallace circus will show in Paducah on the 16th.

To watch the bill posters at work is very entertaining. They operate like clock work and work by groups, one group looking after the paste, another asserting the paper and getting it ready for others who put it up. The boss stands by and directs and not a minute is wasted in getting the paper posted.

The gang plasters the board and moves rapidly in luggies to another, until all the town has been posted.

"I am counting up the funds in the treasury the trustees found that there was $4,000 on hand, or enough to run the village until April, 1906. When the announcement was made Thornton's 1,000 inhabitants immediately began to make plans for holding a celebration to mark their prosperity. A day will be set aside for the ceremonies including addresses by the mayor and leading citizens, followed by fireworks."

HOGG HAS A POLITICAL SECRET. He Will Not Deny It, However, But Says It Would Create a Big Sensation.

Austin, Tex.—Ex-governor J. S. Hogg claims to have political information which, he asserts, would cause a profound sensation throughout the United States if made public. He hinted that he received the information through a letter from a Democrat of national prominence. Hogg feels it would not be proper for him to divulge the secret unless he were granted permission to do so by the person who gave it to him.

And then, like the rolling up of a scroll, the sky turned back to blue, the ruggedness was smoothed from the ocean, and the warmth of the tropics closed around the Bertha Miller, more more rolling easily on the swell of the ocean.

Of the Lady Letty and the drunken henchman, Captain not a trace remained. Kitchell had gone down with his prize. The Bertha Miller's Chinese crew huddled forward, talking wildly, pointing and looking in a bewildered fashion over the sides.

Willbur and Moran were left alone on the open Pacific.

CHAPTER V.

WHEN Willbur came on deck the morning after the sinking of the bark he was surprised to find the schooner under way again. Willbur and Charlie had berthed forward during that night Charlie with the hands Willbur in the captain's hammock. The reason for this change of quarters had been found in a peremptory order from Moran during the dog watch the preceding evening.

She had looked squarely at Willbur from under her eyelids and had said briefly and in a fine contralto voice that he had for the first time noted "at birth" in the cabin, you and the Chinaman forward. I understand."

Moran had only forestalled Willbur's intention, while after her almost unobtrusive piece of seamanship in the rescue of the schooner Charlie and the Chinese crew accorded her a respect that was almost superstitious.

Willbur met her again at breakfast. She was still wearing her clothing—part of Kitchell's outfit and was looked at the time, but now she wore no hat, and her enormous nose of eye-colored hair was brushed into long strands over to the thickness of a man's arm. The redness of her face gave a startling effect to her pale blue eyes and sandy, heavy eyebrows that easily bowed to a frown. She ate with her knife, and after pushing away her plate Willbur observed that she drank like a tumbler of whisky and water.

The conversation between the two was brief enough. There was no common ground upon which they could meet. To her father's death she could make no allusion. Her attitude toward Willbur was one of defiance and suspicion. Only once did she relax.

"How did you come to be aboard here with these rat-cats? You're no sailor," she said abruptly.

"Huh!" laughed Willbur mirthlessly. "Huh! I was shipwrecked."

Moran snatched the table with a red fist and shouted with scornful, bell-toned laughter.

"Shipwrecked? Now, that is really good! And what are you going to do now?"

"What are you going to do?"

"Signal the first home bound vessel and be taken into Frisco. I've my insurance to collect (Willbur had given her the Letty's papers) and the disaster to report."

"Well, I'm not keen on shark hunting myself," said Willbur. But Moran showed no interest in his plans.

However, they soon found that they were not to be permitted to signal. At noon the same day the schooner sighted a steamship's smoke on the horizon and began to raise her rapidly. Moran immediately bound on the engine, unloosed down, and broke it out at the peak.

Charlie, who was at the wheel, spoke a sentence in Chinese, and one of the hands drew his knife across the lady's and brought the distress signal to the deck. Moran turned upon Charlie with an oath, her brows knotted.

"No, no!" said Charlie, closing his eyes and waggling his head. "No! Too much noise; too much noise. You come down side cabin; you an' one piece boss No. 2 (this was Willbur) have in chin chin."

The odd convulsion assailed about Kitchell's table, the chinaman, the half-naked girl in men's clothes and the Chinaman. The conference was an angry one. Willbur and Moran insisting that they be put aboard the steamship, Charlie refusing with calm obstinacy.

"I have my chin-chin with China boys last night," Charlie boy leap third no can stop my steamship, leap third too much talker talker; no stop; go fish now; go fish chop chop; leap third; go fish. I no savvy sail my boat; Chin boy no savvy sail my boat. I think you savvy (and he pointed to Moran). I think you savvy plenty leap much dish day. Boss No. 2 no savvy sail my boat, but Chin savvy plenty savvy all same."

"And we're to stop on board your dough fish and navigate her for you?" shouted Moran, her face blazing.

Charlie nodded blandly. "I tinkum yuss."

"And when we get back to port?" exclaimed Willbur, "you think perhaps I won't make it interesting for you?" Charlie smiled.

"You savvy sail my boat all light; wanta you to captain. Huh!" he added, suddenly dropping his head passively as though it were a mask and for a instant allowing the wicked malevolent glances to come to the surface. "China boy no like funny business. Savvy?" Then, with the smile of a Tillycrand, he disappeared.

Moran and Willbur were helpless for the present. They were but two against seven Chinamen. They must stay on board if the cables wished it, and if they were to stay it was a matter of their own personal safety that the Bertha Miller should be properly navigated.

"I'll captain her," concluded Moran solemnly at the end of their talk. "You must not as mate, Mr. Willbur. And don't get any mistaken idea into your head that because I'm a young girl and alone you are going to run things your way. I don't like funny business any better than Charlie."

"Look here," said Willbur, complaining, "don't think I'm altogether a villain. I think you're a stupid girl. You're different from any kind of girl I ever met, of course, but you're like you—you're splendid! There's the spirit last evening, when you stood at the wheel, with your hair!"

"Oh, drop that!" said the girl contemptuously, and went up on deck. Willbur followed, scratching his ear.

Charlie was called aft and their decision announced. Moran would navigate the Bertha Miller, Willbur and she taking the watches. Charlie promised that he would answer for the obedience of the men.

Their first concern now was to shape their course for Magdalen bay. Moran and Willbur looked over Kitchell's charts and logbook, but the girl hung them aside dispassionately.

"It's been sailing by the dead reckoning, and his navigation is devil. Why, a cabin boy would know better and to end with the chronometer is run down. I'll have to get Brownsville time by taking the altitude of a star tonight and figure out our longitude. I'll bring off our sextant!"

Willbur shook his head. "Only the papers," he said.

"There's only an old ebony quadrant here," said Moran, "but it will have to do."

"That night, lying flat on her back on the deck, with the quadrant to her eye she took a star and brought it down to the horizon, and set up under the weak lamp in the cabin nearly the whole night, and after midnight she had filled up the four sides of the log sheet with her calculations. However, by daylight she had obtained the correct Greenwich time and worked the schooner's longitude.

Two days passed, then a third. Moran ran the schooner's course. She kept almost entirely to herself, and when not at the wheel or taking the sun or writing up the log glowered over the after rail into the schooner's wake. Willbur knew not what to think of her. Never in his life had he met with a girl like this. So accustomed had she been to the rough give and take, direct associations of a seafaring life, that she misinterpreted well meant politeness, the only respect he knew how to pay her, to mean insidious advances. She was suspicious of him, distrusted him utterly and openly ridiculed his abortive seamanship.

Pretty soon was not, but she soon began to have a certain amount of attraction for Willbur. He liked her splendid ropes of hair, her heavy contralto voice, her line of mouth, strength of bone and muscle (admittedly greater than his own), his self-reliance, while her positive genius in the matters of seamanship and navigation filled him with speechless wonder. The girls he had been used to were clever only in their knowledge of the unities of an afternoon call or the formalities of a party.

The Weakness Of an Amazon

Copyright, 1894, by K. M. Whitehead
"Would you object to telling me your reason for wanting to marry me?" she asked in an aggressive tone that quivered into pathos.

Such an unexpected answer caused Harriet to rise from his chair some two or three inches before he remembered that it is the unexpected that always happens. He sat down carefully, having achieved a calm that implied that here was the generally recognized method of answering a proposal.

"Why, for the same reason that other men have asked you to marry them, I suppose because I care more for you than for any one else."

"The others," she said slowly, "have had various motives. They haven't been so very funny," she added, as if constrained to be honest.

"I have known you so short a time I could not be aware of that. I should never have believed it without your assurance."

The hardness of her face relaxed slightly. "You are the fourth," she said shortly.

"Will you tell me why the other three failed?" softly.

She leaned back in her easy chair and grasped its arms with a nervous awkward movement. Harriet noticed the strong, white hands, larger than his by far.

"Do men ever love a woman that weighs 135 pounds?" she asked bitterly.

"I have known one man that accomplished the feat." He smiled in her eyes encouragingly.

"The couldn't feel an inclination to hold a hand of that size. It's uncomfortable in a 6 1/2 glove." She held the offending member before him as if she could cheerfully have amputated the left one and have overtaken the right with a similar fate before they could committed to each other any kind of edge of their various duties.

"The man I mentioned feels a tremendous inclination to hold that very hand," he laughed.

"You are old enough to have acquired better taste," she retorted scornfully. "How old are you, by the way?"

"Born exactly forty-nine years and three months ago."

"I don't object to that," leniently. "It makes me feel somewhat better, I think. A woman of thirty-five likes to feel young even by comparison."

"I'm sure I'll never object to comparisons in our family. If it pleases you, I'll turn down Mr. Shakespeare's opinion concerning them."

"In all my thirty-five years," she began.

"You seem proud to enumerate them. You might knock off five without any one suspecting," crying her with the air of an expert.

"Simple honesty shouldn't be caught emulating," she smiled, with a sense of good comradeship. Her hands relaxed from their grip on the chair and fell more comfortably upon her lap.

"Didn't the other three think it would be rather nice?" He looked meaningfully at the hand nearest him.

"I don't think anybody ever wanted to," she answered simply. "I look too much like the sturdy oak and have received none of the tenderness that falls to the lot of clinging vines. Of course there are storms from which the oak might like to be sheltered. I don't like my masculine manner. I hate it," vehemently. "But it gives a better effect than if I tried to be kittenish. A hundred and thirty-five pound kitten would run such a serious risk of being mistaken for a giddy elephant."

"Precisely," he agreed.

"But even a feminine elephant might long to be admired occasionally and loved."

"Didn't the other three ever?" He gently stroked the firm, white hand.

"They didn't want to," she blushed furiously.

"But why, then?" he commenced.

"Oh, one of them was a widower and said it was so expensive having all the sewing done out for four children."

He frowned sympathetically.

"The second wanted a partner to help run a boarding school."

He nodded.

"The third was a preacher and thought it was not good for man to live alone. He didn't seem to think dyspeptic tendencies and an insatiable income obstacles to prevent his finding a companion with all ease. In fact, his manner was full of assurance that I would jump at the chance. None of them, nobody in all my life, ever really cared for me. They only wanted me to help them do something."

Her eyes were full of tears. "I would like some one to love me as they do the pretty little woman. I am just an affectionate and tender hearted as if I were little and dainty."

Her lip quivered "and I want to be loved—and to be like them." She covered her face with her hands.

He sat down on the arm of the easy chair with an air that was joyous and youthful.

"Dear little woman," he said, ignoring the fact that the shoulders shaken by sobs were broad as his own. "The other three needed killing. I would love to slay them for you one by one, but unfortunately there is a law against it. I will content myself with telling that their lack of appreciation left a chance for the fourth one." He smoothed the hair gently from her forehead. "The fourth man loves you," he said, with a simplicity of words strong in feeling.

She slowly raised her head and looked in his face. In her eyes was shining the same expression that men have often seen in the eyes of those more favored women she envied. The Amazon sank into insignificance; the woman came into her own triumphantly.

"Sweetheart," he said.
